In Dedication

. . . to Mr. H. L. McKenney, superintendent of the Auburn school system for so many fruitful years. Mr. McKenney retired from service to the Auburn schools on June 15, 1958. The class of 1959 wishes to honor Mr. McKenney by dedicating its annual to him. His unsurpassed devotion to the difficult but rewarding work he chose as his career has caused him to be an object of respect and admiration of everyone who knows him and knows of him. Mr. McKenney nourished a small sapling and cared for it as it grew bigger and stronger and better. We know that everyone joins us in saying, "Thank you, Mr. McKenney, for your diligent service and inspiration; may happiness and joy be yours in watching the school system, whose beginning you nurtured, continue to grow and continue to give the children of our city a good firm start on the road to future success.

In Memory

. . . of Richard Keith Smurr. None of us has forgotten Dick, nor shall we. That is why we, his classmates of the class of 1959, wish to commemorate him in our annual. We all loved him; and in spite of his sudden departure, we know Dick's life was a full and a happy one. Everyone who knew Dick was his friend. His carefree spirit and his heart that was big enough always to make room for one more made him one of the most admired members of our class. Whenever we think of Dick, we will always remember the widest and the happiest grin in the world, and we will never forget those freckles and that red hair. All these characteristics made Dick the whole and wonderful person that was our friend. We hope this paragraph will always keep the memory of a friendly and loyal person fresh in the mind of all of us who loved him. We will always recall and cherish the moments we spent with our friend, Richard Keith Smurr.

Foreword

Since the first satellite was sent hurling into space, the world has awakened to the fact that the "Space Age" is upon us. Science has made rapid progress in the last few years. What were yesterday's dreams are today's realities. Rockets soar towards the moon, satellite "planets" revolve around the sun, and passenger jet clippers streak across the continent. We students who are in high school now may be among the first to live on the moon. We will inherit the potentialities of a greatly increased knowledge in science. For these reasons we have selected this theme for the Follies of 1959: "A New World."

PRESIDENT N. E. YODER

Mr. N. E. Yoder has served as the president of the Auburn Board of School Trustees for a period of two years. Previous to serving as the president of the board he served as secretary for one year. As the president he presents all matters of business to the school board. During the past school year Mr. Yoder worked on a survey of the Auburn school system and on obtaining a school cafeteria for the Auburn schools in addition to his many other duties as president. Mr. Yoder has done his job as president very well.

SECRETARY FORD WALTER

This is Mr. Ford Walter's second year as secretary of the Auburn Board of School Trustees. His duties as secretary consist of keeping the records of the actions of the school board and carrying on its correspondence. One of Mr. Walter's main projects this year was working on a school cafeteria for the Auburn schools. This past year he also worked on and helped to bring about a book rental system for the entire twelve grades of the Auburn schools. Mr. Walter has shown his superior ability as secretary many times by all the good work he has done.

TREASURER A. B. LITTLETON

Mr. A. B. Littleton was elected treasurer of the Auburn School Trustees in 1954. He has worked faithfully in this position as treasurer for the past five years. His duties as the treasurer include receiving, dispensing, and accounting for the school system's funds. In the future Mr. Littleton, along with the other members of the school board, plans to improve the school buildings and generally improve the Auburn school system. Mr. Littleton's good work has been greatly appreciated.

SUPERINTENDENT ROSS F. TIPTON

Mr. Ross F. Tipton has been the superintendent of the Auburn school system for one year. Before coming to Auburn to serve as superintendent, he was superintendent at Delphi, Indiana, for two years. During the past year his efforts brought many improvements to the Auburn school system. Some of the improvements are the addition of a kindergarten to the school system and a school cafeteria. In preparation for the future, Mr. Tipton worked on a school survey.

PRINCIPAL LLOYD W. MILLER

Mr. Lloyd W. Miller has served well as the principal of Auburn High School. In addition to being principal Mr. Miller teaches group guidance. He helps the presidents of various organizations work out a schedule of meetings so that the dates will not conflict and countersigns all checks for the different classes and clubs of the high school. He is also the sponsor of our annual and is the school's athletic director. Even though Mr. Miller is a busy man, he is always willing to help the students with their problems. His willingness to help the students is just one of the reasons he is so well-liked by the student body.

MRS. CARMA-JEAN ECKERT

Mrs. Carma-Jean has worked at Auburn High School since her graduation in 1946. Mrs. Eckert has served under two superintendents of the Auburn school system. She worked for Mr. H. L. McKenney until his retirement a year ago. This school year she was secretary and receptionist for the new superintendent, Mr. Ross Tipton. Mrs. Eckert does the bookkeeping, typing, and other general office work for Mr. Tipton. Carma is a person well-liked by the students because of her warm personality.

MISS ROSE MARIE OPENLANDER

Miss Rose Marie Openlander has served as Mr. Miller's secretary since her graduation from Auburn High School in 1955. In addition to her regular secretarial duties, like bookeeping and typing, she does some work for the Parent-Teacher Association. She is also a great help at the athletic games by selling tickets and acting as ticket taker. Her willingness to help the students makes her very popular among the students.

Class of 1959

"The New Year's Eve, we did the town—the day we tore the goalposts down—we will have these moments to remember, these moments and many others."

From September 2, 1958, to May 27, 1959, our lives as seniors have been filled with moments to remember: the quiet walks in the hall, the noisy class fun, the elections that the Kickapoos won, the Homecoming that we as seniors have begun, the Christmas Formal, the banquets, the Blackouts, Thunder on Sycamore Street, and Indianapolis—here we come. Long after our announcements have been signed, sealed, and mailed, and when other nights and other days have found classmates gone their separate ways, we will have these moments to remember.

Those who were chosen to lead the class of '59 were James Jackson, president; Roger Goodwin, vice-president; Mary Ann Gerig, secretary; and Judy Aubrey, treasurer. The class sponsor was Mrs. James Herzer. Mrs. Bruce Goodwin and Mrs. Robert Croy served as class mothers.

The intellectuals of the class of '59 were Rebecca Treadwell, Sylvia Grogg, Roger Goodwin, and Charles Laurie.

In sport activities, Roger Goodwin was elected as able president of the Auburn Athletic Association, while Richard Reuter was elected the capable secretary. The "he-men" of the senior class were: football—Jack Cook, Roger Goodwin, Robert Moore, Abraham Ochstein, Eric Rieke, and Preston Stackhouse; track—Lee Allison, Charles W. Croy, Charles Laurie, Abraham Ochstein, Eric Rieke, James Detrick, Eugene Link, Preston Stackhouse, and Kenneth Webb; and basketball—Roger Goodwin, Charles Laurie, Eric Rieke, and John McInturf.

Melanie Myers became a member of the lettermen's club by being the class of '59's cheerleader representative.

Class of 1960

"We have worked, worked, worked, till the day is done, and we're sing, sing, singin' a song."

So went the theme song of the junior class. Project upon project confronted the class of '60. Reminiscent of those "treasured" hours of work will be: "Buy your tickets now on the bicycle"; "Don't forget to purchase your Christmas cards from the juniors"; and "Get your refreshments at the junior stand."

Through these projects the juniors were able to sponsor the gala event of the year, the junior-senior banquet. The Van Orman hotel in Fort Wayne was the chosen spot for this year's banquet, after which the junior parents sponsored the eagerly-anticipated dance, show, and breakfast.

The juniors were led by: Joseph Garceau, president; Timothy Brown, vice-president; Bonnie Muhn, secretary; and Joyce Grosh, treasurer. Mr. Frank Weathers, class sponsor, and Mrs. Lois Conner and Mrs. Richard Davidson, the class mothers kept everything under control.

The honor students were: Sandra Doden, Lawrence Beuret, Charles Lange, Jayne Bussell, Sandra Ford, and Jane Platter. Janet Hoodelmier, Nancy Patrick, Frederick Barkey, Joseph Garceau, and Ned Short proved their acting ability in the junior-senior play.

The athletes of the junior class who received their letters were: Dale Cochard, Timothy Brown, Jon Feagler, Michael Frownfelter, Joseph Garceau, Richard Moore, Ned Short, and Ronald Thomas in football; Jon Feagler, Dale Cochard, Stephen Davidson, Ned Short, Richard Moore, and Thomas Slick in basketball; David Brandon, Timothy Brown, Dale Cochard, Robert Conner, Stephen Davidson, Jon Feagler, William Heffley, Michael Frownfelter, Joseph Garceau, Richard Moore, John Pinnington, Thomas Slick, Roger Souder, Ronald Thomas, and Warren Wiedenhoeft in track.

Class of 1961

"We ain't got a barrel of money, but neither are we ragged and funny. We're just a-travelin' along, singin' a song, side by side.

"Through all kinds of weather, what if the sky should fall? Just as long as we're together, it doesn't matter at all."

Together the classmates of '61 survived their greenhorn year and joyfully welcomed their sophomore year.

When they entered the "middle" year, their class had no general projects which it had to fulfill. Their sophomore year was filled with memories of parties, dances, and dates and all-round good times. Along with these memories, many class members purchased class rings or class sweaters of the chosen color, red.

The class of '61 chose, as their officers: president, Michael McKinley; vice-president, Thomas Smith; secretary, Ann Pasmann; and treasurer, Cathy Walter. Mrs. George McKinley and Mrs. Deloss Metcalf were elected class mothers. The class sponsor was Mrs. Charles Johnson. Michael McKinley, Thomas Smith, Sandra Bassett, Marie Johnson, Diana McNeece, and Kay Miller were the geniuses of the class.

In football David Aschleman, John Gaskill, Stanley Knisely, Donald Lemish, Michael McKinley, James Reas, John Shoudel, Thomas Smith, and Kim Webb received letters. Those who participated in basketball were: David Aschleman, David Bard, John Gaskill, Robert King, Donald Lemish, Michael McKinley, Steven Silberg, Donald Steininger, Thomas Smith, Kim Webb, and Steven Wildermuth.

Those who participated in track were: David Aschleman, William Barnhart, Michael Cornelius, Joseph Drerup, Lee Emerson, Charles Frederick, John Gaskill, James Grosh, Clifton Gustafson, Warren Hildebrandt, Robert King, Donald Lemish, Edward Link, James Mason, Michael McKinley, William Myers, Phillip Woodcox, James Reas, Douglas Scott, Harry Sherwood, John Shoudel, Steven Silberg, Thomas Smith, Donald Steininger, Ronald Tarlton, Kim Webb, and Steven Wildermuth.

Class of 1962

"Younger than springtime were they, gayer than laughter were they."

"Younger than springtime and newer than springtime" could easily describe the "freshies" upon their arrival at A.H.S. last September. Through the year they were gayer than laughter, as all incoming students are. A.H.S. was a new and novel experience to the freshmen. Some of the new things which they encountered were biology class dissections, Latin class conjugations, and algebra equations.

Long-remembered activities included initiations into Plebes and Teen-Y, dates with upperclassmen, try-outs for sports, and Blackout practices. The bewildering feeling of the freshmen upon entering soon disappeared when they began on the road to their studies.

Those who gained highest honors on the road to their studies were: Gary Dunn, James Norford, Warren Sunday, and Marcia Tucker. The officers of the class were: president, Paul Carper; vice-president, Wayne Segraves; secretary, Linda Hoodelmier; and treasurer, Susan Harpster. Mr. Virgil Landry served as sponsor, while Mrs. Max Gray and Mrs. George Tucker served as class mothers.

Those freshmen boys who participated in sports were: football—Gerald Boren, Jon Bruce, Paul Carper, Gerald Cline, David Cochran, Philip Coleman, Stephen Fox, Charles Hoover, Jon Lange, Joseph Lemper, John Lindbloom, David Long, Robert Martin, David McClellan, Michael Mitchell, Robert Palmer, Thomas Quance, Michael Reynolds, John Roop, Wayne Segraves, Ralph Smith, Allan Staggs, Warren Sunday, Richard Walters, David Weimer and Hal Williams; basketball—Jon Bruce, Paul Carper, Gerald Cline, David Cochran, Gary Dunn, Charles Hoover, David Long, Robert Martin, Thomas Quance, James Reed, Roger Schlatter, Wayne Segraves, Allan Staggs, Richard Walters, and Donald Wiley.

The Follies of 1959

Twelve long years ago a group of excited six-year-olds started first grade. We soon grew accustomed to school and learned to look forward to it each year. Through the years our class slowly changed. Some of our classmates moved away, but new faces quickly filled their places. We progressed from year to year until we, the Class of 1959, reached this, our last year together. All ninety-one of us are now as excited as six-year-olds over our graduation.

As seniors we have been the leaders of the school in athletics, music, scholarship, extra curricular activities, and social life. The annual was one of our many projects which took a lot of time and effort. Last spring a rough dummy was set up to serve as a pattern. Early in the fall the annual staff was elected and each member began on his task. Changes had to be made in our plans as unexpected situations arose, but we kept going. Our salesmen working under Eric were Cathy Cobler, Karen Koeppe, Melanie Myers, Mike Crowley, Diann Bauman, Judy Van Dercar, and Deanna Hathaway. The advertising space in the back of our book was sold by Karen and Cynthia. Dick and Larry kept our budget balanced. Marilyn and Diane helped whereever they were needed. Bill's drawings were "out of this world." Wherever there was a group of high school students, Joe took pictures. Mary Ann and Louanne spent much of their time on the senior and class write-ups. The two Jims sorted through and compiled great quantities of information for the Calendar. Our athletes were carefully followed by Chuck and Marianne. When Mary McAninch, our copy editor, left us at the end of the first semester, Gordon replaced her and reminded us to get in our copy. Roger must be credited with reporting the activities of many of our organizations. Janlee reviewed the junior-senior play, Thunder on Sycamore Street accurately and colorfully. The musical touch was added to our book by Kenny. Ronnie and Judy reported the school vocational activities. The senior prophecy and the humor were the contributions of our hard-working humor editors, Lee and Steve.

Mr. Lloyd Miller, our principal, worked with us as our able sponsor, while Mr. Robert Love corrected and perfected our copy. Our pictures were taken and our films developed by Mr. Kelso Davis of the Davis Studio. We found the cover we wanted and selected a color and a grain with the aid of Mr. Jack Bundy of the S. K. Smith Company. Our pictures and the art work were engraved by the Fort Wayne engraving Company through their representative, Mr. Thomas Broom. The Auburn Printing Company transformed our efforts into print. Finally all the parts were fitted together into a single book by the Heckman Bindery. All this would have been impossible if the local merchants and businessmen had not purchased advertising space from us. We sincerely wish to thank everyone for the assistance they have given us in placing this book in the hands of the student body.

If, as you leaf through this book, the pleasant memories of your high school life come flowing back to you and you seem to relive these moments, we will have accomplished our aim. With this purpose in mind we, the Class of 1959, present The Follies of 1959 to you.

Hi-Y

"This meeting will now come to order."

With the bang of the gavel, President Kenneth Webb silenced the mad confusion created by forty enthusiastic junior and senior lads. So it went through a long and successful year. Able leadership marked the progress of the club with Kenneth Webb at the helm. "Quiet Kenny" made his ideas known in his old mild manner. He was assisted by Jack Cook as vice-president, Lee Allison as secretary, Richard Bowerman as treasurer, and Paul Schumann as chaplain and sergeant-at-arms. The sponsor, who is chosen by the members of the Auburn Hi-Y chapter, was Mr. John Robert Walter.

The club had various projects throughout the school year. Among these projects was the annual fair project. This activity was for the purpose of raising money for charity. Money raised this year went to Buildings for Brotherhood, a Y.M.C.A. charity, and for the care of overseas orphans in Africa and the Middle East. Other fund raising projects sponsored by the Hi-Y were two dances. Due to the exceeding popularity of these dances, a great profit was realized. Though they put on but two dances by themselves, the Hi-Y assisted in many other Y.M.C.A. activities such as the Christmas Holiday Formal, the New Year's Party, and other "Y" club activities. The Hi-Y boys should receive a large part of the credit for helping with the beautiful decorations for the Holiday Formal.

Even though the club had an abundance of leadership as a natural resource, the officers were not above trying to improve their qualities. In mid-summer, 1958, Lee Allison and Michael Crowley attended the combined "Y" officers training camp at Delphi, Indiana. At this training session Michael Crowley was fortunate enough to be elected to the position of Fourth District Representative to the State Hi-Y Council. In the fall the club sent two representatives to the District Conference meeting in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

As an additional service project the Hi-Y boys held a clean locker campaign in Auburn High School.

Plebes

The Auburn Y.M.C.A. has had an interest in Auburn youth since its establishment in Auburn years ago. As the years have passed, the "Y" has increased its youth activities to meet the needs of the community. Three years ago, "Y" officials evaluated their youth program and saw a need for an additional organization for high school youth. "Y" club memberships were available for all high school students except freshmen boys at that time. Another factor was the large size of the Hi-Y Club, then an organization for sophomore, junior, and senior boys. In the fall of 1956, then a new "Y" club, "Plebes," was organized. During its first year, membership was open only to freshmen, but membership was open to freshmen and sophomores during the second year.

In its third year of operation, the Plebes is now a firmly established organization. The name "Plebes" was chosen in order to distinguish it as an organization for underclassmen and to avoid confusion with the Hi-Y. The organization of this club makes Hi-Y fellowship open to any Auburn High School student who wants admission.

The officers elected for the year 1958-1959 were: James Grosh, president; Michael Cornelius, vice-president; Douglas Scott, secretary; Barry Stroh, treasurer; William Myers, chaplain; Donald Steininger, sergeant-at-arms; and Steven Rose, scribe. Mr. Charles Johnson was club advisor, and Mr. Gene Holdeman "Y" sponsor.

The club has had a very interesting program this year. Judge Harold Stump told about his experiences in the F.B.I.; Miss Gladys Duguid gave a talk on her experiences in touring Europe; Mrs. Leo Hildebrandt analyzed handwriting; Mrs. Harry Covell spoke on etiquette; and Superintendent Ross Tipton spoke on education.

The thirty-five members of Plebes enjoyed a hayride sponsored by the Moose. They also had a record hop at the end of the year.

Along with the other "Y" clubs, Plebes helped with the work at the "Y" stand at the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair. Also at this time Plebes held its initiation of new members.

Plebes also sent delegates to the officers training camp at Delphi during the summer.

Tri-Hi-Y

"Learn through Tri-Hi-Y" should have been the slogan for the Auburn Tri-Hi-Y this year. The education of its members was a prime objective of the president, Mary Ann Gerig, and her subordinate officers: vice-president, Catherine Cobler; secretary, Darlene Brown; treasurer, Kay Frank; chaplain, Nancy Neuenschwander; sergeant-at-arms, Karen Russell; and sponsor, Miss Mary C. Wood. In ten of their twelve meetings some type of useful knowledge was imparted to those of the unusually high percentage in attendance.

The kindly assistance of Mrs. Gene Holdeman was responsible in large part for the degree of success attained by the club this year. All "Y" club members who have in some way benefitted from her guidance will share our sadness when she retires.

Meeting the second and fourth Wednesdays of every month, Tri-Hi-Y began immediately on October 8 to plan the business of the forthcoming year. On December 10 the girls were treated with a visit from Mrs. Eloise Davidson who spoke on the airline stewardess profession. The Reverend Leroy Buuck spoke on "Homes" in mid-January. At the meeting on January 28, Mrs. Virgil Landry spoke on "Home Economics as a Vocation."

As the meetings progressed into second semester, there was no halt to the interesting talks. Superintendent Ross Tipton spoke on February 25 on the subject of teaching.

From mid-February to late March the club had a lull in their educational activities, but on March 25, Miss Phyllis Gratz, an Auburn attorney, presented her case for the "Chances of a Girl Becoming a Lawyer." Another highlight to the year's proceedings was the April 8 meeting, which was classified as a practical as well as entertaining one. It was at this meeting that Mrs. Wayne Beuret and Miss Marcia Ruddick explained how copper ceramic jewelry was made.

Besides all of these singularly interesting and helpful meetings, the Tri-Hi-Y officers provided for even more. They held joint meetings with the Hi-Y, to see Mr. H. E. Hart's color slides on Hawaii, and with Teen-Y, to be counseled on vocations and modeling.

Darlene Brown and Catherine Cobler represented Tri-Hi-Y at the Delphi Training Camp in mid-summer, 1958.

Tri-Hi-Y fund money helped needy orphans, CARE, World Service, and March of Dimes. The most beautiful Christmas Holiday Formal in years was sponsored by Tri-Hi-Y.

Teen-Y

The first order of business of the Teen-Y was sending their two highest officers, Connie McCann and Carole Close, to camp at Delphi. Their officers are: president, Connie McCann; vice-president, Carole Close; secretary, Jama Blickenstaff; treasurer, Barbara Hess; chaplain, Diane Davis; sergeant-at-arms, Barbara Shook; and sponsor, Mrs. Gene Holdeman.

At the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair their decorated car won third prize. Teen-Y was represented at the district meeting held in Fort Wayne by Barbara Shook, Barbara Hess, Diane Davis, and Connie McCann.

Teen-Y had a speaker at almost every meeting. These speakers included: Mrs. Charles Overmeyer on successful living; Mrs. Don Folk on nursing; Mrs. Harry Covell on manners; Mr. Ross Tipton on education; Mr. Harry Hoham on Europe; Dr. Dale Treadwell on osteopathy; Mrs. Richard Yoder on modeling; Mrs. Caroll Davidson on being an airline hostess; and Mrs. Wayne Shook on home decoration. Early in the fall they held a candlelight service for induction of new members. On April 20, Teen-Y had a potluck supper before the meeting in which they installed their new officers.

These freshman and sophomore girls put their money to good use. During the year they sent money to Wee Haven, to the Lunch Fund at Harrison School, to world service, to CARE, to refugee adoption, to the Christmas fund, and to a boy in Jordan for food and clothing. Teen-Y also paid the way for their officers to go ot training camp at Delphi.

How did Teen-Y accumulate this money? They sponsored the annual Sadie Hawkin's Day Dance and co-sponsored a WOWO record hop with Tri-Hi-Y. The Teen-Y girls also helped the canteen raise money at the fair booth. It can well be said that Teen-Y had a very successful year.

The Auburn High School Band

The Auburn High School Band went through another very busy and successful year under the very capable leadership of Mr. Richard Norris. The band presented musically everything from swing to Bach.

One of the highlights of the year was the presentation of the second annual Cabaret Concert.

The band received a good rating in the marching contest held at Columbia City on October 11. Besides marching in the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair, the band also marched in the Auburn-Cord-Duesenberg parade that climaxed a big convention held in Auburn.

Rebecca Blevins and Jama Blickenstaff served as head majorettes for the A.H.S. Marching Band this year.

On February 7 many Auburn High School Band members trooped to Harrison Hill School in Fort Wayne to give their solos and ensembles in the Northeast District Solo and Ensemble Contest. Soloists receiving a superior rating were Diane Davis, Judith Kruse, Philip Trippel, and Linda Cutter. Ensembles receiving superior ratings were: flute duet, Sally Showalter and Rebecca Treadwell; clarinet duet, Sylvia Grogg and Mary Wilson; brass sextet, James Jackson, Ronald Bassett, Kenneth Webb, Philip Trippel, Larry Beuret, and James Sellers.

These members who received superior ratings in the District Contest went on to play in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest at Indianapolis on February 21.

On April 4 the band played in the District Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Contest, which was held at Angola.

Judith Kruse, Marilyn Dennis, Ronald Bassett, and Kenneth Webb participated in a band in Fort Wayne which presented several selections to the Northeast Division of the Indiana State Teachers Association. This band was composed of representatives from several schools in this area.

In the spring came the annual magazine-selling drive to boost the financial status of the band.

The officers of the band were: Kenneth Webb, president; James Jackson, vice-president; Marilyn Dennis, secretary; and Sylvia Grogg, treasurer.

The Auburn High School Chorus

The Auburn High School Chorus went through another successful year with Miss Francis Hewitt at the baton.

The famed A.H.S. singing group, the Bel Canto Singers, this year was composed of Charlene Smith, Catherine Cobler, Louise Showalter, Deanna Hathaway, Eunice Tilghman, and Jane Platter. December was a busy month for the Bel Canto Singers. They sang for the Auburn Business and Professional Women's Club, the Rosary Society, and the school Christmas program.

The chorus sang at numerous Parent-Teacher Association meetings throughout the city. The chorus members also fared well in the District Solo and Ensemble Contest. Their ratings were: Elizabeth Clemens, excellent; Connie Wolf, superior; Louise Showalter, excellent; Katherine Beuret, excellent; Pamela Treadwell, excellent; Bel Canto Singers, excellent; freshman trio, excellent; and a sophomore duet, excellent. In April the chorus as a whole entered the District Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Contest.

On Good Friday the Auburn High School Chorus presented several selections at the services at the First Methodist Church.

Barbara Hinton, Deanna Hathaway, Catherine Cobler, Beverly Mussak, Louise Showalter, Judith Dwyer, and Peggy Thompson received chorus awards this year. These awards are presented each year to the senior members of the chorus.

All in all, the chorus members had a very exciting year. Among the less glamorous events was the fund raising project which was held in the spring.

Several members of the Auburn High School Chorus had the privilege of participating in a chorus composed of the outstanding chorus members from throughout this area. It sang for the Northeast Division of the Indiana State Teachers Association. The chorus was directed by the very famous Doctor George Krueger of Indiana University.

Then the Bel Canto Singers came along to sing at the Riley School P.T.A.. Those flowing tones also were well received at Commencement.

The officers this year were: Deanna Hathaway, president; Catherine Cobler, vice-president; Louise Showalter, secretary; and Jane Platter, treasurer.

Booster Club

"Sis, Boom, Bah!
"Booster Club, Rah! Rah! Rah!"

This is an ordinary yell, but not an ordinary club, for we at Auburn High School are greatly indebted to this club whose members' unselfishness of time and talent make it easier and more enjoyable for us to watch the basketball games.

This year, at last, the future of the Booster Club was guided by Catherine Cobler as manager and Jane Platter as assistant manager. Mr. Lloyd Miller, our principal, acted as the supervisor for the group. He donated much of his time to guiding the club to its seventh consecutive successful year.

The Auburn High School Booster Club members have sold candy, potato chips, popcorn, and ice cream at all home basketball games this year. At the sectional tournament the Booster Club continued its fine work. After the season ended, the Boosters were all in "good shape" from another season of climbing the bleachers and making change.

The money which the Auburn Booster Club earns is primarily earmarked for bringing us fine talent in assembly programs. We at Auburn High School are presented with these educational, unusual, and highly entertaining programs throughout the school year. This year Booster Club money brought us six fine programs.

The school assembly talent comes to us through the fine facilities of the School Assembly Service of Chicago, Illinois, and the Antrim Bureau of Glenside, Pa.

Near the end of the year awards were presented to these deserving and avid workers. The system of awards goes like this. The first year awards are denoted by a large letter "A" with the word "Booster" written on it. Second year members receive a bronze pin as a reward, while a silver pin is awarded third year members. There has been a need for only one four year award, a gold pin, presented since the founding of the club; Susan Trippel was the recipient in 1957.

With its numerous aids to the students at Auburn High School — waiting on us at basketball games and furnishing money so that we may enjoy and learn through excellent assembly programs — the Booster Club is definitely not an "ordinary" club. Its unselfish motives prove that.

Librarians

The main purpose of our school library is to serve as a reference library for all subjects taught in Auburn High School. There are also special reference materials in the home economics, the American history, the world history, and the biology and agriculture rooms.

In addition to reference books, almanacs, atlases, and fiction, the school library has a magazine rack. The magazines, used for entertainment as well as reference, range from Atlantic Monthly and National Geographic to Ladies' Home Journal and Good Housekeeping. For those interested in hot rodding some special automobile magazines are available. The Auburn High School library subscribes to more than twenty-five magazines.

Our school library has less than one hundred books of fiction because the public library is well stocked and very close to the high school building. Nonetheless, over one hundred dollars' worth of new fiction material was put on the shelves last year. This means that to a limited degree a student of Auburn High School may find fiction books to his liking.

To find the reference materials, to find new books, and to answer the many questions asked of librarians, a system is organized whereby students may get the information they are seeking. Student librarians are the main cogs of this system. Those participating in this year's program were: Phyllis Groves and Judith Dwyer, first period; Mary Shook, Kathleen Beuret, Kay Miller, Kalene Axtell, and Marsha Fox, second period; Claudia Cole, third period; Fern Humbert and Louanne Blickenstaff, fourth period; Frieda Jones, Karen Russell, and Judith Sherwood, fifth period; and Janlee Lewis, Judith VanDercar, Janis Woods, and Diann Bauman sixth period. These girls sat in the back of the assembly at the extreme right.

Much credit should go to Mrs. Doris Simpson, school librarian, for the time she has spent keeping the reference shelves in order. Auburn High School students often see Mrs. Simpson as she industriously re-arranges books and magazines and keeps the library shelves in order. She is always eager and willing to help students with a problem in their search for knowledge.

Girls' Athletic Association

We do not know how the space people treat their girls, but here at "ol' A.H.S." the girls have as many opportunities and activities as the boys. One of the most active organizations for the girls here is the Girls' Athletic Association. The purpose of G.A.A. is to promote better health, sportsmanship, and leadership among the girls. It is open to any high school girl who wishes to join. In order to maintain a membership in G.A.A. a member must earn fifty points during one year. Six practices in any one sport count as ten points. A girl who has acquired 150 points is entitled to receive her numeral. One who receives 250 points automatically gets a letter. One who earns 350 points receives the highest possible award, a state G.A.A. plaque.

A few of the many activities of the club include: swimming, basketball, softball, bowling, and volleyball. On November 22, a volleyball playday was held by our G.A.A. Garrett, New Haven, and Butler were invited to participate. The playday was held in the Alumni Gymnasium at 1:00 P.M. During the G.A.A. basketball season this year, the girls were divided into teams according to their year in school. Games were played every Wednesday after school.

As any member of G.A.A. will agree, the most anticipated social event of this year was the spring banquet. At this banquet the annual awards were presented to the outstanding freshman athlete and to the most outstanding athlete of the whole club. These awards were based primarily on scholastic ability, sportsmanship, and participation in club activities.

The officers for the 1958-59 season were Marianne Davidson, president; Karen Carpenter, vice-president; Kay Miller, secretary; and Karen Kay Koeppe, treasurer. The sponsor, Mrs. Barbara Herzer, did a wonderful job in making this year a successful one.

Members of the Letterman's Club are the boys who won their letters in the previous year's track season, all athletes who have received letters in basketball or footgall, and the cheerleaders. Letters are awarded on the basis of points scored in track and the number of games played in football and basketball. Future Farmers of America

The Future Farmers of America, whose colors are national blue and corn yellow, is an organization which is composed of chartered state associations which, in turn, are made up of local chapters situated in high schools having departments of vocational agriculture. The boys enrolled in vocational agriculture classes constitute its active membership, but provision is also made for associate and honorary memberships. Our chapter had thirty-one members.

Officers for each unit of the F.F.A. — local, state, and national — are elected annually. Our chapter's local officers for the year were: Ronald Bassett, president; Wayne Smith, vice-president; Lionel Winslow, treasurer; Wilbur Camp, secretary; James Mason, reporter; Thomas Smith, sentinel; and Mr. Gilbert Turpin, advisor.

Each unit meets at specified times. Our chapter met the second Thursday of each month. Our club carried on its necessary business at this time, and recreation followed the meeting.

F.F.A. is self-supporting. Our club selected various well-chosen fund-raising activities to finance the club.

The following first year members were initiated as Green Hands: Paul Carper, Phillip Coleman, Dale Egly, Wayne McKean, Dennis Heffley, Cleo Richardson, Ralph Smith, Roger Schlatter, and Dick Walters.

The Chapter Farmer degree, a degree presented to second year members who have earnd at last fifty dollars with their projects, was presented to the following members: David Aschleman, Ellis Baker, Don Hawver, Warren Hildebrandt, Lyle Kneubuhler, James Mason, Thomas Smith, and Dale Wildeson.

The chapter sent Ronald Bassett, Wayne Smith, and Lionel Winslow to the state F.F.A. convention held at Purdue April 3, 4, and 5.

The chapter sponsored both a grain judging team and a livestock judging team.

The annual Father and Son Banquet was held April 9, 1959. F.F.A. is developing a trained leadership and a farm citizenry which serves and exerts an influence for good whenever found.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America is an organization of high school girls who work "Toward New Horizons" in home economics. The colors of the club are red and white which stand for youth and purity. The club's flower is the red rose.

The theme for this year was "Teens with a Purpose." The members carried out this theme with a movie on marriage and career; a talk by Miss Carolyn Durkes, the DeKalb County Home Demonstration Agent, on the topic "A Career in Homemaking;" and a lesson on good parliamentary procedure.

Some of the extra activities the club did were the following: a decorated car in the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair, a Christmas party and gift exchange, a party with the Future Farmers of America, and a banquet to install new officers.

The chapter raised money by selling dampening bags, measuring cups, knives, and oven savers. Each member was required to sell seven dollars worth of articles. The money that was raised provided for the annual formal banquet and a donation to the high school home economics kitchen.

The club's charity project was called a penny mile. The goal was a mile of pennies for the club's chosen charity, the Wee Haven School of Garrett.

This year the club had an enrollment of twenty-seven members under the sponsorship of Mrs. Larry Stomm. The members chose the following officers: Judith Pickard, president; Diana McNeece, vice-president; Patsy Stoops, secretary; Catherine Cobler, treasurer; Nancy Winslow, parliamentarian; Judith Dwyer, historian; Kathleen Beuret, song leader; Linda Wilkinson, reporter; and Janet Baysinger, project chairman.

The club wishes to thank this year's club mother, Mrs. Walter Pickard, for her time given to the organization.

Future Teachers of America

One might ask any member of the Future Teachers of America this question: "What is the motto of your organization?" His answer would probably be: "I did not know we had any."

True as this case may be, if the one who posed this query were to check the Future Teacher's program, he would probably say their motto was: "Learn through doing."

The F.T.A. believes in letting its members gain experience "on the job." And on the job they were, for throughout the second semester twenty-nine of the thirty-four members of the Auburn Future Teachers Club served as student teachers for one period per week. During this time they gained invaluable information. They applied first-hand the practical techniques which they learned in regular club sessions. Above all, they gained worthwhile experience by actually teaching.

The major burden of organizing this "on the job" teaching is carried by the officers. Ably leading the club this year was president Judy Aubrey. Mary Ann Gerig served as vice-president, while Diann Bauman ably executed the secretary's post. The treasurer was Karen Carpenter.

Besides this group there was a minor staff of officers which made the programs more factual and interesting. These officers were: Joyce Grosh, parliamentarian; Rebecca Treadwell, historian; Melanie Myers, librarian; and Marianne Davidson, song leader. The sponsorship of this organization was held by Mrs. Doris Simpson. She has energetically fulfilled her duties as club sponsor this past year.

The Future Teachers of America Chapter in Auburn meets but once a month. On November 13, they held their first meeting at which business plans were announced. On December 11, the meeting in main was concerned with a movie on teaching techniques. In February Miss Gladys Duguid spoke about her trip to Europe. This meeting was as educational as it was interesting. The March 12 meeting was primarily centered on another instructional film called "A Desk for Billie." In April a special program was provided with Angola and Kendallville F.T.A.-ers as guests. Miss Rhoda Williams was the speaker. At the final meeting, the new officers were installed.

Cheering Block

There was a sudden flash of color. A large rectangle of white-gloved girls had just flashed a black and red block letter "A." As if by some hidden signal the "A" suddenly melted away. The visiting audience and the home audience alike showed their approval by an enthusiastic burst of applause.

What group was this in action? It was the cheering block, of course.

This group of 84 spirited young A. H. S. lassies yelled their hearts out, cheering the fortunes of the Auburn Red Devils. With a great deal of finesse these girls executed the tricky yells and maneuvers originated by cheerleaders Melanie Myers, Sandra Jo Goodwin, and Bonnie Muhn and energetic sponsor Mrs. Barbara Herzer. To gain this certain magic is no mean feat. Practice, to make perfect, is what it takes, and practice, to make perfect, is what they did. During basketball season, every Wednesday and Friday from 12:25 were designated as block practice days. During these enlightening sessions the "hows and why's" of new cheers and tricks were imparted to the girls. The thirty minutes was devoted to practicing these skills to the point where everyone had mastered them.

The make-up of the cheering block is primarily of senior, junior, and sophomore girls. The freshmen girls must serve a year in an apprentice or "substitute" role. In this manner the younger girls gain experience for their ensuing years in high school. To remain in the block it is necessary to pay a fee of two dollars to cover the cost of transportation to away basketball games. The block attended but one basketball game this year and that was at Concordia.

During the games the block members wear red and black jersey pull-overs, white gloves, and dark skirts.

The cheering block has but one office. The treasurer's position was held by Mary Ann Gerig.

Awards were given this year as a reward for service. These awards were determined on the basis of a newly-devised point system and on the basis of seniority.

Devils' Journal

The Devils Journal has shown improvements this year under the leadership of editor-in-chief Roger Goodwin. The circulation has gone up 63% over last year. Ingenious advertising by Roger, Lee Allison, and Preston Stackhouse had much to do with this increase in circulation. The "Deviltry" had better coverage and covered two pages. Many new features were added this year. "Wax Fax" which means the top ten records was written up cleverly to include the names of the students. A new novelty column by Preston Stackhouse had much to do with this increase named "Nuts 'n Bolts." A senior was written up secretly in each copy under the "Secret Personality." A roving reporter was added to the staff. The first semester Mary McAninch served in this spot. Marianne Davidson succeeded her. A welcome change was the clearer print. No longer was it difficult to read the paper. These improvements have served to make the paper more enjoyable to the Auburn High School students.

The major staff is largely responsible for production of the paper. Roger was assisted by Joseph Garceau, the associate editor. Melanie Myers served as business manager. The exchange secretary, who sends our paper to other schools, was Judy Aubrey. The publicity was the work of Preston Stackhouse. Karen Russell, as news editor, handed out assignments to the reporters. The current gossip was turned in to Karen Koeppe, who was Deviltry editor. Dale Cochard was in charge of the sports. The seniors' personalities were written by Mary Ann Gerig. Harvey Harris was responsible for the printing, and Sandra Jo Goodwin supervised the assembling of the pages. The sponsor was Mr. Robert Love.

"Thunder On Sycamore Street"

The 1958 junior-senior play was a three-act drama illustrating the effects of a small town's prejudice against Joseph Blake (Frederick Barkey), his wife Anna (Judith VanDercar), and his daughter Judy (Nancy Patrick).

When people discover that Mr. Blake once served a brief term in prison, and a group of neighbors including Mrs. McAllister (Marilyn Dennis), Clarice Morrison (Mary McAninch), Charlie Denton (Preston Stackhouse), Grace Denton (Catherine Cobler), Bill McAllister (Jack Cook), Phyllis Hayes (Elizabeth Cline), and Mrs. Harkness (Janet Hoodelmier) band together. Led by Frank Morrison (Eric Rieke), the group is determined to throw the Blakes out of their home. Although Chris Morrison (Gordon Gouveia) keeps the audience laughing with his flashes of humor, suspense builds up. At this moment, Roger Morrison (Joseph Garceau) engages the help of his teen-age friends: Mac (Ned Short), Irma (Marianne Davidson), and Caroline Hayes (Janlee Lewis). The teen-agers' help comes too late, however, for Mrs. Carson (Jeanette Thorpe), the town busybody, informs the Blake family of the plan.

A powerful conclusion is reached when Arthur Hayes (Roger Goodwin), a mild but determined neighbor, has a change of heart.

Pete Goodwin played the part of Mrs. McAllister's wandering son.

The play's production success was due to the following crews and their chairmen: student director, James Jackson; business manager, Richard Reuter; properties, Sandra Ford; publicity, Phyllis Groves; make-up, Karen Carpenter; program, Judith Pickard; and ticket drive, Claudia Cole.

For his forceful direction and dedicated work in making this play a success, our appreciation goes to Mr. Phil Howard.

For outstanding performances, oscars were awarded to: Roger Goodwin and Mary McAninch for Best Actor and Best Actress, and Gordon Gouveia and Janet Hoodelmier for Best Supporting Actor and Best Supporting Actress.

To be a member of the Auburn Athletic Association, a student must be included in one or more of the following groups: season ticket holders, band members, student helpers at games, Booster Club members, a member of any one of the athletic teams, or cheer leaders. Persons included in any of the above were members of the most active organization at Auburn High School. In past years the Auburn Athletic Association has done many things to promote the use of better athletic equipment that is both directly and indirectly connected with sports activities. An example of the work and accomplishments of this organization is the placement of new lights and new bleachers at the football field during the summer of 1958. Another example, soon to be seen, will be the placement of new bleachers on the north side of the football field.

The student body, this year, selected the following persons as the officers of this organization: Roger Goodwin, president, and Richard Reuter, secretary. Miss Mary Catherine Wood continued as A.A.A. treasurer, and Mr. Lloyd W. Miller served as athletic director.

In order to help keep the students' enthusiasm high, pep sessions were held. The pep sessions were a little different this year, however, as the majority of them were held during the noon hour, instead of on school time. The A.A.A. President did not speak at these noon sessions, nor did the coaches. The cheer leaders, Melanie Myers, Sandra Goodwin, and Bonnie Muhn, led the student body in a series of yells, after which the students went to their fourth-hour classes.

Auburn has always had a "rough" schedule in all sports. It seems that just about every team we play is bigger than we are. Yet, even this fact does not keep Auburn High School students from cheering for their team when the chips are down. This attitude is due mostly to the work of our athletic director, Mr. Miller, and of the Auburn Athletic Association. This organization has played an essential part in the workings of the school for many years now and we hope it will continue to do good work for Auburn High School in the future.

Football 1958

Only eleven lettermen greeted Coach Virgil Landry for the 1958 football campaign. Only seven of these had considerable experience from last year.

Auburn defeated Decatur in the first game of the season by a score of 12 to 6. Mistakes were numerous in the opener in the tackling and pass defense of the Red Devils. Abe Ochstein made the winning touchdown with a dazzling sixty-four yard touchdown run.

A large crowd watched the Auburn Red Devils drop a heartbreaker to the Kendallville Comets. Abe Ochstein made two long runs, but there was not enough Ochstein to beat the Comets. The final score was 13 to 12.

Auburn broke loose for 28 points in the second half to defeat the Bluffton Tigers 28 to 0. There were many bright spots in the game for the Red Devils, but they suffered a setback in spite of their big victory. Jon Feagler broke his left hand and was out for the rest of the season. Abe Ochstein also injured his ankle.

Auburn was given a 33 to 0 drubbing by the Concordia Cadets. Auburn was minus three of its starting backfield men most of the game due to injuries.

The Auburn Red Devils lost a 21 to 6 decision to the undefeated Nappanee Bulldogs at Earl Carr Memorial Field. On the second play of the game, a Nappanee halfback ran eighty-seven yards for a touchdown. Ron Thomas scored the only touchdown for the Red Devils.

Auburn lost a 27 to 7 football game to the big Hartford City Airedales. The Airedales had two big 225 pound tackles who kept the Red Devils from gaining any yardage on the ground. Auburn's backs went to the air, but the ends could not hold on to the slippery bootball.

The Warsaw Tigers trounced the Auburn Red Devils by a score of 21 to 0. The breaks all went to Warsaw during the course of the game. They recovered three Auburn fumbles and several of their own.

The powerful Garrett Railroaders rolled to a 37 to 0 victory over the Auburn Red Devils. There was an overflow crowd on hand for the game between the two arch rivals. Auburn played a very good first half, holding the Railroaders to a 7 to 0 halftime score. But in the second half the Railroaders exploded for thirty big points on the running of Jim Short and the passing of Carson Culler.

The Auburn Red Devils lost a one point decision to the Mishawaka Penn football team. The final score was 21 to 20. Auburn was ahead most of the game, but Penn scored a touchdown and then kicked the extra point in the last quarter to go ahead of the Red Devils by one point.

The Auburn Red Devils exploded for four touchdowns in the final period to roll up a 54 to 20 victory over the Edon, Ohio, Blue Bombers. A large homecoming crowd was on hand for the final game of the season. Abe Ochstein broke loose for touchdown runs of seventy-six, twenty-three, thirty-six, and thirty-eight yards. Eric Rieke also caught three touchdown passes. Blocking was exceptionally good by Goodwin. Roger Goodwin threw two touchdown passes and Mike McKinley threw one in the Red Devils' victory.

The Auburn reserves had a record of one win and five losses. They lost their first game of the season to the Concordia Cadets by a score of 19 to 0. The reserves beat the Angola Hornets 15 to 0 for their first victory of the season. Kendallville defeated the Auburn reserves by a 12 to 0 score in their third game of the season. Auburn's reserves lost another 12 to 0 decision to Garrett. Angola reversed the tables on the Auburn reserves at Earl Carr Memorial Field, winning by a score of 19 to 13. The Auburn reserves entertained the Kendallville team in its last game of the season. Auburn lost in the final game by a 13 to 6 score.

Coach Landry presented awards to the football team. Those receiving letters or chevrons were: David Aschleman, Timothy Brown, Dale Cochard, Jack Cook, Jon Feagler, Michael Frownfelter, Joseph Garceau, Jack Gaskill, Roger Goodwin, Stanley Kniseley, Donald Lemish, Michael McKinley, Richard Moore, Robert Moore, Abe Ochstein, James Reas, Eric Rieke, Ned Short, John Shoudel, Thomas Smith, Preston Stackhouse, Ronald Thomas, Kim Webb, and Roger Souder, student manager.

Those receiving a silver football were: Jack Cook, Roger Goodwin, Robert Moore, Abe Ochstein, Eric Rieke, and Preston Stackhouse.

Basketball 1958-59

Six lettermen reported to Coach Virgil Landry for the 1958-1959 basketball season. Auburn still lacked the one big, good man.

Auburn lost its first game in a thriller to the Concordia Cadets. The final score was 62 to 60. Laurie was high point man for Auburn with twenty-one points.

Auburn was handed its second setback of the season by South Bend Washington. The Red Devils' last half rally fell five points short as they lost 68 to 63. Eric Rieke was high man for Auburn with seventeen points.

The Auburn Red Devils lost their third straight basketball game to the South Bend Riley Wildcats, dropping a 65 to 55 decision.

The Auburn Red Devils lost their home opener at Alumni Gymnasium to their old rivals, the Garrett Railroaders, by a score of 37 to 29. Coach Virgil Landry decided to have his Red Devils deliberately hold up the ball, and the scoring was held to a minimum.

Coach Don Reichert brought his Fort Wayne South Side Archers to Alumni Gymnasium and his star forward, Tom Bolyard, scored forty-three points. The final score was 80 to 48.

Auburn won its first game by defeating the Peru Tigers by a score of 50 to 45. The outcome was in doubt throughout as both teams led at times, and neither could pull away to a comfortable margin.

The Auburn Red Devils faltered in one period and lost a 73 to 63 decision to the Fort Wayne North Side Redskins. The Red Devils looked and played the best ball of the season the first half. McInturf led the Auburn team with twenty points.

Auburn drew Kendallville in the Kendallville Holiday Tournament. The Red Devils led the Comets early in the game. The score was tied at 57-all at the end of regulation time. Kendallville won the overtime game by a score of 65 to 57.

In the consolation game Auburn dropped another close decision to the Concordia Cadets. Auburn jumped off to an early lead but could not hold it. The final score was 59 to 57.

The Kendallville Comets again beat the Auburn Red Devils by a score of 55 to 49. Auburn led at the end of the third quarter by six points but lost the game in the final quarter.

The Auburn Red Devils ran into a buzz saw at Angola and suffered one of their worst defeats of the season as the Hornets fired a whopping total of 84 points while the best the Red Devils could produce was 54 counters.

Auburn won its second game of the season by defeating the Decatur Yellow Jackets. The final score was 56 to 47. John McInturf led the Red Devils with eighteen points.

Mishawaka handed the Red Devils another defeat by a score of 70 to 41. Auburn could not find any way to penetrate the loose zone of Mishawaka.

Fort Wayne's Central Tigers handed the Auburn Red Devils a crushing 77 to 44 defeat at the Coliseum. Mike McKinley led Auburn with eighteen points.

Auburn lost their thirteenth game of the season to the Goshen Redskins. The final score was 77 to 47. Auburn could not stop Goshen's hot shooters.

The Hartford City Airedales defeated the Auburn Red Devils by a score of 67 ot 54. Auburn could not hit from the floor, making only fifteen of sixty for a twenty-five percent average. Auburn also had trouble in getting good shots. The Red Devils kept up with the Airedales until the third quarter.

Auburn went down in defeat for the fifteenth time this season to the Bluffton Tigers. Auburn played very well in the first half, but the final score was 74 to 59 in Bluffton's favor. Bluffton took a great number of shots, although most of them were tips. Auburn was led by Steve Davidson with thirteen points.

Auburn came very close to winning their third game of the season, but they faltered in the last three minutes. The Wabash Apaches won a come-from-behind victory over the Red Devils. Auburn led at every quarter stage except the final. Wabash won the game by a score of 57 to 48.

Auburn lost an 86 to 58 decision to the Huntington Vikings. This was the highest total scored against the Red Devils this season. The Huntington team repeatedly drove through the Auburn defense for easy baskets, and their height advantage gave them complete charge of the boards.

The Auburn Red Devils lost their final game of the regular season when the Warsaw Tigers finished strong to take an 85 to 75 decision. Auburn was ahead at halftime, but the Red Devils could not keep up with Warsaw the last half. The two teams were evenly matched and were not separated by more than six points at any time during the first three quarters.

Auburn lost its first game in the sectional basketball tourney. The Red Devils were tied with the Angola Hornets at 22 all, but they failed to pull ahead at any time. The half time score was 22 to 29. Auburn played for good shots which they seldom got. Van Marter, Angola's leading scorer was held to a mere four points. The final score was 51 to 40 in favor of Angola.

Those boys receiving their letters were: Dale Cochard, Steven Davidson, Jon Feagler, Charles Laurie, John McInturf, Michael McKinley, Richard Moore, Eric Rieke, and Joe Garceau, student manager.

Four seniors received blankets for participating in basketball. They were: Roger Goodwin, Charles Laurie, John McInturf, and Eric Rieke.

Track 1958

An enthusiastic group of seventy-six high school boys greeted Coach Robert Walter for the 1958 season. Only five lettermen were lost from last season and nineteen lettermen returned. The squad expected to have a fine season.

Auburn piled up 96 points in their opening track meet of the season. They whipped the Riverdale Comets and Avilla Panthers in a triangular track meet at the Earl Carr Memorial Field. The Red Devils took first place in eight events, tied for another blue ribbon, and copped both relay races.

Auburn won its second track meet of the season by trouncing Kendallville. The score was Auburn 88½; Kendallville 20½. The Red Devils took first place in all but two events.

The Auburn Red Devils rolled to a 73 to 36 victory over the Concordia Cadets, who were expected to give the McIntosh athletes a scare. It was the third straight victory for the Red Devils. The crack half-mile quartet of Ochstein, Albert, Blevins, and Feagler broke the track record in a good time of 1:38.6

The Red Devils went to Goshen and pulled a surprise by capturing the Goshen Relays crown in the Class B event. Bill Croy won two firsts, capturing both the high jump and the pole vault. Auburn collected a total of 55 points and was presented a large team trophy.

Auburn was handed its first setback by the Garrett Railroaders. The final score was 70 to 39. Auburn's mile relay team toured the oval four times in 3:38.6 to set a new McIntosh school record. Dave Magnuson led off, and was followed by Roger Souder, Bill Rediger, and Chuck Laurie.

Fort Wayne Central's Tigers had too much power for the Auburn Red Devils and handed them a 73 to 36 defeat at Earl Carr Memorial Field. There was too much John Kelso for Auburn.

The Auburn Red Devils finished third with 34 points in the Kokomo Relays. At Kokomo, the Red Devils failed to get the performances in some events that carried them to the Goshen Relay championship a week ago.

The Auburn track team rolled up 89½ points to walk away with a triangular meet at Angola. The host Hornet team was second with 32 points and Avilla scored 15½ points. The Red Devils captured all but two first place ribbons and set seven of eight new records on the newly constructed Angola athletic field.

Auburn easily won a dual track meet at Earl Carr Memorial Field, defeating the Butler Windmills by a score of 76 to 33. One McIntosh school record fell when Fred Brown lowered the low hurdle mark by a tenth of a second. His time was 22.5 seconds for the 180 yards. The two Auburn relay teams won by sizeable margins.

Fort Wayne Central Catholic was handed an 89 to 19 defeat by Auburn's powerful track team. Auburn won first place ribbons in all events but the broad jump. Abe Ochstein found the hard cinder track at the St. Vincent's Villa to his liking and took both the 100 and 220 dashes. Fred Brown also won both of the hurdle events.

The Auburn Red Devils track team breezed to an easy victory over the Fremont Eagles. The final score was 96⅓ to 12⅔ and was the seventh victory against two losses for Coach Robert Walter's boys.

Auburn athletes did not fare too well in the annual Garrett Invitational Track Meet, but their two relay teams were easily the class of the field.

The Red Devils recorded their eighth victory, easily outpointing the Waterloo Wildcats, 71 to 38. Dick Eastridge of Waterloo took first place blue ribbons in three events. Abe Ochstein won the 100 yard dash in 10.5 seconds.

Auburn Red Devils track team scored seven points and qualified one man for the regionals in the sectional track meet held at Northrop Field in Fort Wayne. Bill Croy placed second in the pole vault.

Coach Robert Walter was well pleased with the results of the team this season. The Red Devils recorded a winning season of eight wins and two losses. Auburn also won the B division of the Goshen Relays. Imps

Before every varsity basketball game, the Auburn Imps have entertained us with a reserve game. As everyone knows, we had a rough season in basketball this year, but the Imps had a record of 5 wins and 13 losses. We are also proud of our Imps this year for defeating Kendallville and Angola to win the B-Team Tourney held in Auburn on January 10. In winning the tourney, the Imps received a beautiful trophy which is now in the trophy case at the high school. The players for the 1958-59 season were: Kim Webb, Roger Souder, Dale Cochard, Donald Lemish, David Aschleman, Wayne Segraves, Stephen Wildermuth, Donald Steininger, and Robert King.

The B Team record was as follows:

(The following special report has just been received by this newspaper from our reporter on the scene.—Ed.)

Under the able guidance of Professor Cedric Furber, A. H .S. is about to conquer outer space. The crew, consisting of Dr. Vandal Landry and his able assistant Jupiter Johnson, an ex-boxer, are in charge of maintenance of the space ship.

The navigator, Topsy Tipton, is charting the ship's course very successfully. Also scheduled to go along with the expedition are two space cadets, Mousie Miller and Fuzzy Weathers. High-Pockets Herzer and Dolly Dawson, two ex-burlesque girls, are in charge of checking the ship's fuel supply.

It's just about count-down time. Willy Walters is in charge of the count-down.

Frog Haiflich is being tightly concealed in the nose cone. Friends, you are about to witness the send-off of Frog and the rest of the ship's crew.

But before the count-down, Professor Cedric Furber has a few words to say. Come in, Professor Cedric. "Friends, we have worked very hard for the last five weeks trying to find our first space man. We picked Frog Haiflich because he resembles a frog and we think that by sending such an odd creature up in space, Russia will chicken out. Let me take just a minute to tell how we picked out Frog. Boppin Bobby Love, who is the chief engineer of the new Univac machine, made by the local home economics class, put Univac into operation about an hour ago. Quickly Frog was picked out. Frog has no time to be nervous because we told him that he was going to the county fair."

Now back in the count-down room, Willy has just discovered that he can not count down; he can only count up.

Frog is just realizing that he is a human guinea pig. Now he is suffering from claustrophobia.

The count-up has begun. 1-2-3-4-5 Blast Off! Everyone is leaping with joy. High-Pockets Herzer and Dolly Dawson report that they see a smelly liquid running from the seams of the nose cone. Professor Cedric believes that it is only a slight fuel leak. But Hildagard Grogg insists that Sherlock Hurni be sent up to investigate.

BULLETIN

The inhabitated space ship that A.H.S. put in outer space has had some difficulty. It seems a meteor has struck the space ship head on and has knocked off the nose cone with Frog Haiflich in it. Because of this incident Fuzzy Weathers has become so hysterical that the rest of the crew had to put him in a strait jacket and set him in a corner of the space ship.

Ever since take-off time the space ship has had a hard time of it. The rest of the crew has taken a majority vote and decided to turn back and call the expedition a flop. They will probably be back on earth in a few days, if nothing else happens.

Any similarity to teachers is purely on purpose and has been put in here for a reason.

Now back to the tracking station, Kool Koeppe and Clyde Laurie are doing a marvelous job of tracking the rocket. Wait folks! We have just received word from Sherlock Hurni that the smelly liquid was only regurgitation from the odd shaped mouth of Frog Haiflich. Friends, our time has just run out. Read the Morning Star tomorrow for further details of this great adventure. Until tomorrow, same time, same station, this is Colonel Bleep and his pals Squeek and Scratch going off

To The Class of "59"

Remember well this day in May
As you venture into Life,
Like the Vanguard and Explorer with expectations, goals, and strife,
For although this is the Space-age
with rockets to the Moon
The world is still around you know with obligations coming soon.
